

Australia's Global University

Refugee women:
Key to the Global Compact on Refugees

UNSW
Forced Migration
Research Network

Session 2: What is leadership? Why do we need women leaders?

Refugee women in leadership:
Power through participation

Human beings live and work in groups.

There are many different kinds of groups.

1. Families
2. Tribes
3. Communities
4. Religious groups
5. Others?

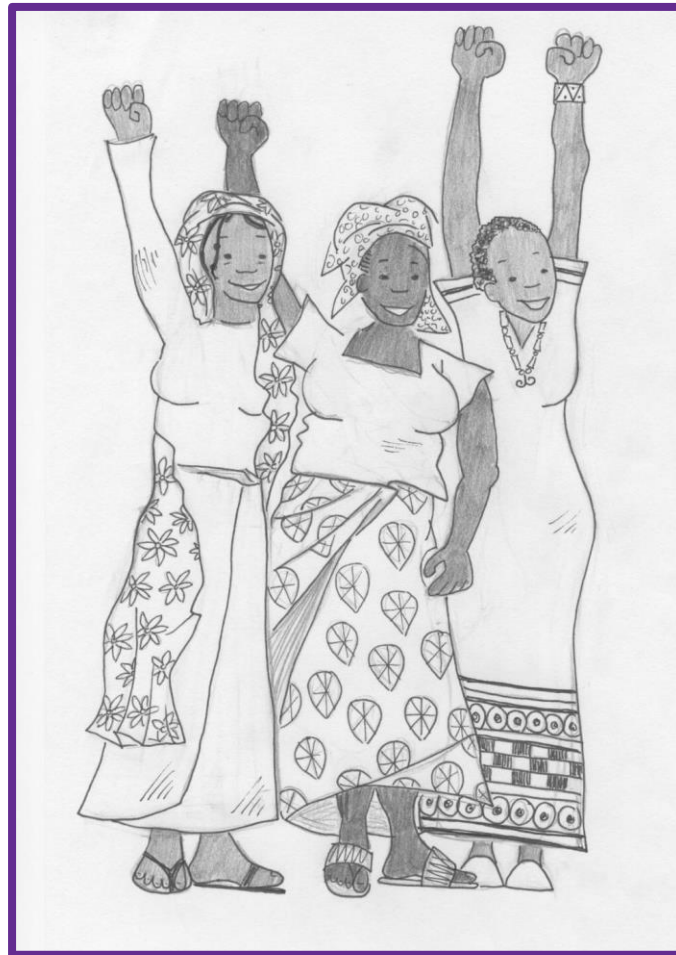

People take many roles in groups.

These include:

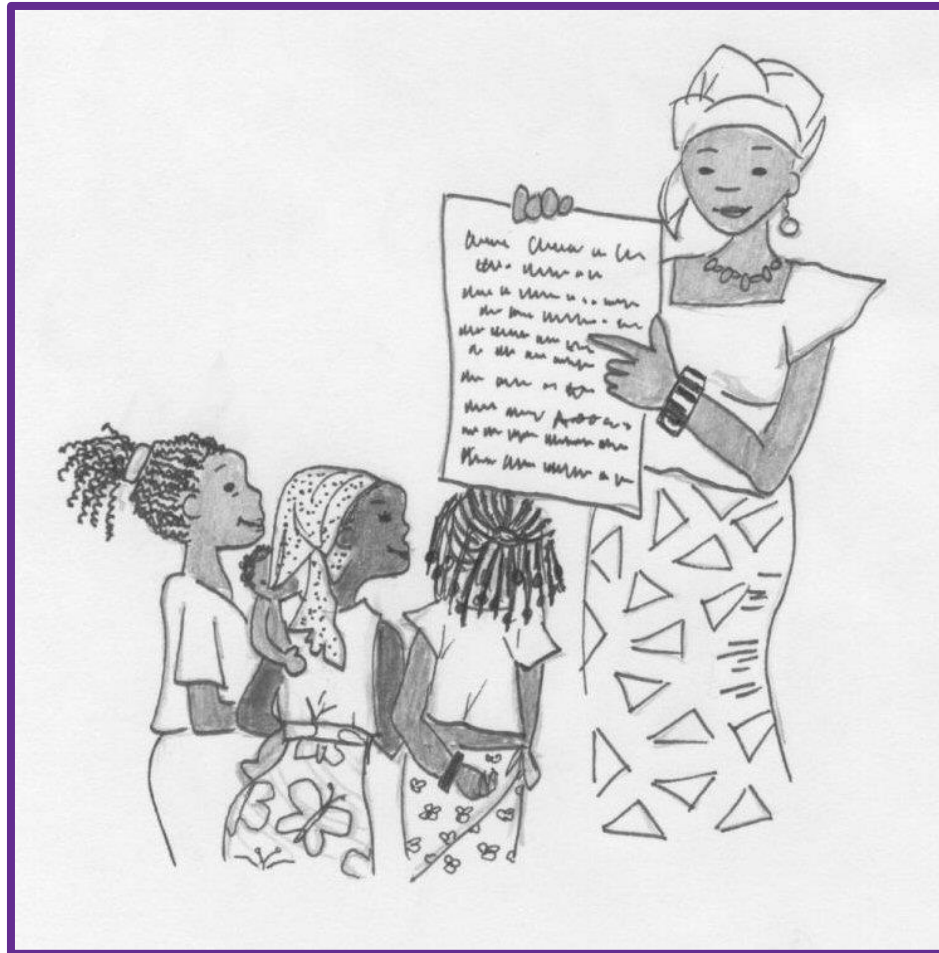

- Leaders
- Support people
- Group clown
- Troublemaker
- Peacemaker
- Others?

This training is about becoming women leaders.

What makes some women leaders?

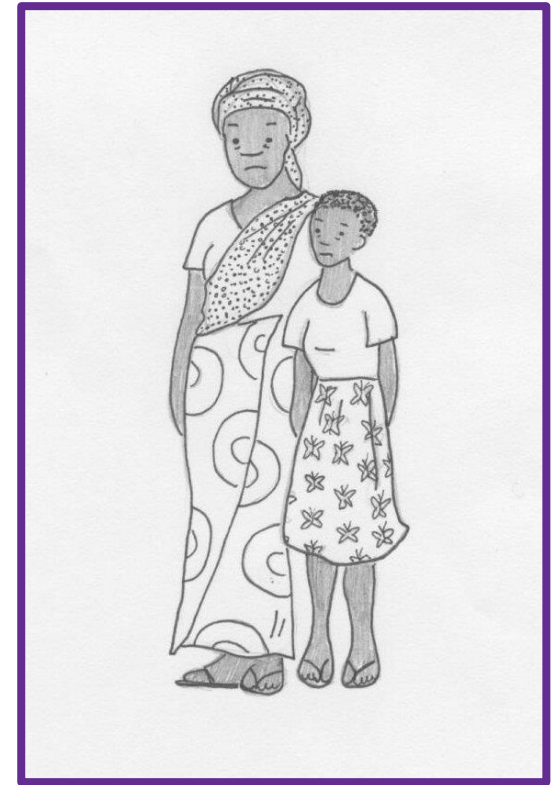

Types of leaders

Some are good and some are bad.

Some are very visible and easy to identify.

Other leaders are quiet but they are respected and people follow their example.

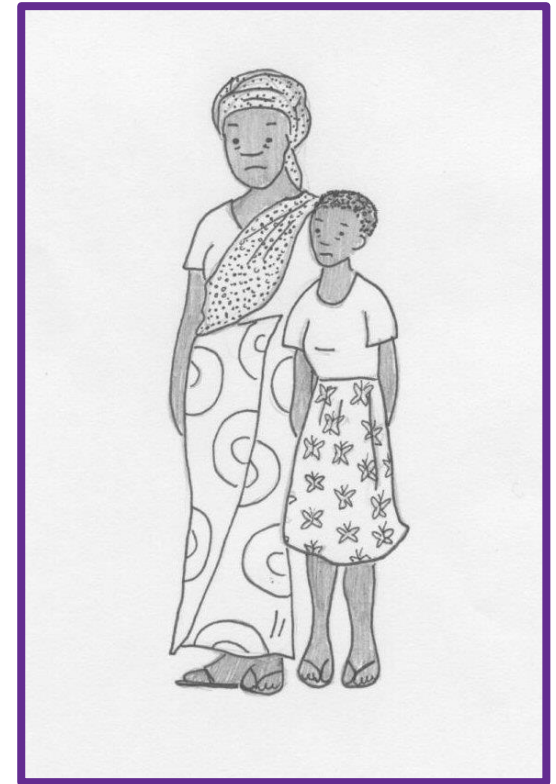

Types of leaders

Some leaders are formal leaders, such as elders and camp committees.

Some leaders are informal leaders – strong people who are trusted and respected.

Some leaders are not liked and respected, and lead by fear.

Why do we need WOMEN leaders?

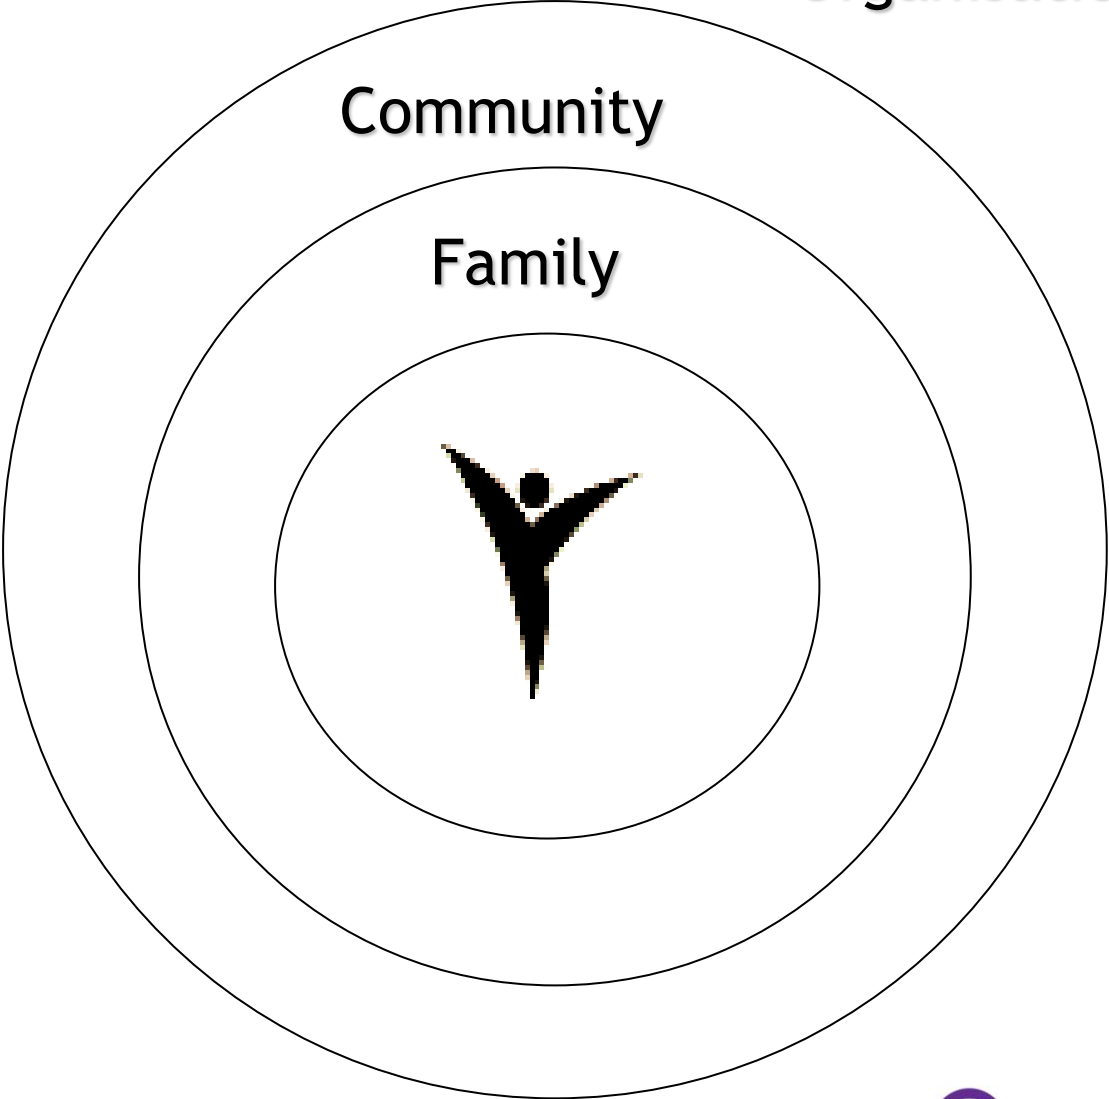

Women in leadership

What leadership roles do women have now?

What other roles could women take?

Organisations

Society

Women in leadership

What support and resources would help women in their work as community leaders?

What training do women need to become leaders?

Setting course objectives

What do participants want to learn from this training course?

